

A silhouette of a person's head and shoulders is superimposed over a high-angle view of a city skyline at sunset. The person is looking out over the city, with the sun low on the horizon, creating a warm, golden glow. The city features a mix of modern skyscrapers and older, more densely packed buildings. The overall mood is one of contemplation and forward-looking vision.

COMPETENCE

As the premier technology execution company, we promise you the right expertise and an unrelenting commitment to service.

Our ability to deploy superior technology expertise is rivaled only by our deep commitment to service and reliability. This commitment isn't just something we talk about; it's part of who we are, and it shows in everything we do.

At TEKsystems®, we seek individuals who are not only technologically proficient, but who also care about teaming with other colleagues and clients. We recruit people with true strength of character and integrity, who genuinely share our values. We treat every assignment as another step toward building long-term relationships.

We believe a job well done not only achieves your goals, it cultivates trust—something you can return to again and again.

Staffing Services

Whether you need additional support for a week or for a year, we understand you need more than someone who simply has the technical ability to get the job done. You expect someone you can count on to take your work as seriously as you do.

Finding the right person is more than matching skills. It's about identifying the person you'd choose yourself, the person who hits the ground running and becomes a valuable contributor to your staff.

Understanding your business, your culture, and your needs is our business.

Team Services

We all face projects that call for more than one supplemental employee with the right talents. When you require multiple people, our Team Services offering allows you to specify requirements for all team members as a single assignment.

In these exclusive engagements, we assemble the precise mix of skills, experience, and personalities it takes to complete a project. As the single-source provider, we ensure rate consistency and process efficiency, ultimately delivering multiple skill sets as smoothly as delivering just one.

Team Services is our way of deploying superior technology expertise on a larger scale.

Workforce Management Services

We understand that you look to external resource providers for the specialized skills and flexibility they offer. But like many companies, you may find that procuring and managing these resource providers consumes more time and money than it should.

By combining the right people, business processes, and Web-based technologies, our Workforce Management Services offering streamlines the management of your company's contingent labor, and IT and communications service providers. As the nation's largest IT staffing company, we know how to optimize the management of contingent labor. So now you can benefit from this expertise and enjoy increased efficiency, high service quality, optimized business processes, and advanced reporting capabilities.

In the end, you get better results and a greater ability to focus on the critical demands of your business.

Component Services

Managing the logistics and scalability of your technology portfolio without losing focus on core priorities often requires turning to an outside partner. The benefits of technology expertise and expanded bandwidth are matched only by the measurable return on investment that can be realized when we take responsibility to complete discrete projects and components of larger ones.

We specialize in the management of the resources, logistics, and tools to implement technology in many areas of IT and communications. So, once your strategy has been defined and you begin planning implementation, you can turn to us to handle all aspects of completing projects and project components. You'll also find that our core expertise in deploying technology makes us the perfect partner to support you in managing the resources that are central to your infrastructure and technology portfolio.

Areas of focus include software development and support, deployments, asset inventories and retirement, communications installations, communications engineering, training, and help desk management. With years of experience, our project managers and team members are the finest, most qualified resources available.

We understand that when you turn to us for Component Services, you're doing more than simply delegating work: you're entrusting us with a piece of your company's future.

PASSION

TRUST

Our Core Values

These principles define who we are and how we work with customers, as well as how we work with one another. They influence everything we do and represent the ideals we aspire to as a company and as individuals.

Character with Competence

What sets TEKsystems apart is our demand for people who exhibit strength of character and integrity. We seek out people who not only possess strong technical abilities, but who show true dedication to their work, their clients, and their colleagues.

Trust and Respect

With every assignment, a client trusts us with their business. We know they're counting on us to get the job done, and it's our goal to deliver the people and results they expect. At the end of the day, honoring our promise is the only way to earn real trust and respect.

Commitment

Commitment is the difference between good and great, and no amount of skill can replace it. As a company and as individuals, we excel at what we do because we are committed to our work, our clients, and to one another.

Accountability

Good business means doing what we say. To guarantee that our clients know exactly what they can expect from us, we make it our mission to hire people who share this belief.

Relationships

Strong business relationships are the foundation of customer service. For us, every client interaction is an opportunity to learn more about our clients and what they need. We also believe in knowing our own people, their abilities, and their strengths. Relationships are the key to delivering the extraordinary customer service we've built our reputation on.

When you turn to us your needs are met with reliable people, dedicated teams, proven processes, and our ability to get the job done.
